Unofficial Analysis

- * This analysis was prepared by a human and is subject to human error.
- * It is considered inconceivable that, of two teams in contention for the same position, one will outscore the other by more than 20 points. Inconceivable!

 Wild-Card Berth

Bloor St. Irregulars and Smith & Guessin' have the lead for the wild-card berth, and it is inconceivable that anyone else will catch them. Smith & Guessin' can take the berth if they (playing against Night Owls) outscore Irregulars (who are playing against What She Said). Otherwise Irregulars take it.

 Torquemada Leaders

If Irregulars take the wild-card berth, then Smith & Guessin' have clinched the Torquemada Division leader's berth.

But if Smith take the wild-card berth, then What She Said and Misplaced Modifiers (who play Usual Suspects) are in contention with Irregulars for the Torquemada leader's berth. The winner between What and Irregulars probably takes the berth, but if they tie, then Mods can overtake both of them by winning their Game 10.

 Jaworski Leaders

Toronto Trivia Commission have clinched the Jaworski Division leader's berth.

 Promotion and Relegation

This applies if no teams enter or leave the league.

MI5, the current question-setters, were relegated last season and will re-enter play in the Jaworski Division. Night Owls are also relegated to the Jaworski. Therefore two teams need to be promoted from the Jaworski to the Torquemada Division.

One of them will be Toronto Trivia Commission. The other will either be Artless Dodgers (who are playing TTC in Game 10) or Unnatural Axxxex (who are playing Marvel-Us). If only one of those teams wins in Game 10, or if one ties and the other loses, this determines the promotion. If they both win or both tie or both lose, then Axxxex are promoted if they outscore Dodgers by at least 5, otherwise Dodgers are promoted.
